

Combat Actions of a Tank Army Separated from Other Front Forces

.....This problem is important because, after the delivery of missile/nuclear strikes, a deep penetration by advancing strike groupings of troops into the enemy disposition, in cooperation with large airborne landing forces will be required in order to exploit the results of these strikes as quickly as possible and to carry out a rapid offensive into the entire depth of the theater of military operations. This in itself will reduce the capabilities of the enemy to deliver massed missile/nuclear strikes and to unite the efforts of his approaching reserves.
