

Dying Light

This is a new Logan MacRae thriller from the author of Cold Granite. Its summertime in the Granite city: the sun is shining, the sky is blue, and people are dying! It starts with a prostitute, stripped naked and beaten to death down by the docks - the heart of Aberdeens red light district. For DS Logan MacRae, its a bad start to another bad day. Only a few short months ago, he was the golden boy of Grampian police. But one botched raid later, hes palmed off on a DI everyone knows is a jinx, waiting for the axe to fall with all the other rejects in the Screw-up Squad. Logans not going to take it lying down. Hes determined to escape DI Steel and her unconventional methods, and the best way to do that is to crack the case in double-quick time. But Rosie Williams wont be the only one making an unscheduled trip to the morgue. Across the city, six people are burning to death in a petrol-soaked squat, the doors and windows screwed shut from the outside. And despite Logans best efforts, its not long before another prostitute turns up on the slab! Stuart MacBrides characteristic grittiness, gallows humour and lively characterization are to the fore in his unputdownable second novel, confirming his status as the rising star of crime fiction.
