

Mother West Wind How Stories (Illustrated) (Classic Books for Children Book 45)

These tales of the little creatures of the Wide Green Meadows have given endless delight to generations of children. In this collection Peter Rabbit hears the story of how old Mr. Squirrel became thrifty; how it happens Johnny Chuck sleeps all winter; how Drummer the Woodpecker came by his red cap and many other fascinating tales of the long-ago days of his great-great-ever-so-great-grandfather.

These charming tales of how Old Mother Nature put the finishing touches on her children contain a wealth of natural history, and they are beloved favorites that can never be told too often. * This e-book is a true representation, from a high-definition scan of a pre-1923 print version of the book. Unlike other e-copies of the book, it was not produced by using Optical Character Recognition (OCR). OCR-scanning old books is seldom, if ever, error-free. This often results in an e-book with many **, ^^, >> and typographic errors when OCR cant read the word or punctuation correctly. * True representation means that if there are typographic, spelling, or grammatical errors that the editor judges to have minimal impact on the books comprehension, they have been preserved; otherwise, they were corrected. * In other words, no changes or as few as possible have been made to either illustrations or text in order to bring you an e-book that is as close to the original as possible. Thornton Waldo Burgess (January 14, 1874 June 5, 1965) was a conservationist and author of childrens stories. Burgess loved the beauty of nature and its living creatures so much that he wrote about them for 50 years in books and his newspaper column, Bedtime Stories. He was sometimes known as the Bedtime Story-Man. By the time he retired, he had written more than 170 books and 15,000 stories for the daily newspaper column.
