

Murder for Treasure

Could the take-over of Ripleys Patent Footbalm by the giant American Hutstacker Chemical Corporation really be scuppered by Mrs Ogmores-Davies parrot finding a body in Panty Harbour? It looked like it, but banker sleuth Mark Treasure took a different view when a second body was discovered the morning after he arrived in the little West Wales sailing village close to St Davids. By then Treasure had already survived a murderous assault aboard the Fishguard Express, a pitched battle on Whitland Station, and the inexplicable disappearance of a battered Australian clergyman. And that was only the start of his exceedingly unquiet weekend. Lots of hilarious touches. Matthew Coady, Guardian
