

Sydney on Screen: Where Heritage Becomes Fantasy

Australia has been attracting travellers for years by showcasing beautiful landscapes and unique locations in Aussie-made movies and television shows. Productions such as Australia, Mission Impossible 2, Muriels Wedding, The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert and Home and Away have done much to increase tourism Down Under as Crocodile Dundee did when it became an international hit in 1986. Sydney on Screen is the ultimate travel guide to Sydneys film world that will have you exploring the city in a fun and unique way. See where productions such as Maos Last Dancer, Superman Returns, Mission Impossible 2, The Matrix and sequels, Babe: Pig in the City, Son of the Mask, The Man Who Sued God, Reckless Kelly, Starstruck, Police Rescue and many more were filmed. Whether youre a visitor or a Sydneysider, Sydney on Screen has something to offer everyone, from history and architecture buffs to nature lovers. A map and information on Sydneys attractions are provided to help you plan your walk. Pick and choose from the suggested itinerary to see as little or as much of the city as you like. So, come and discover the magical locations that draw filmmakers to Sydneys upper Central Business District. Visit famous sites from both the big and small screen, and walk in the footsteps of the stars!
