

Releasing the Spirit

In this book, there are teachings that probably will touch some golden calves of various readers, because this revelation from the Holy Spirit gets into the ramifications of the soul, into soulish displays and the lifestyles of the self: The reader needs to understand that the soul does not want to be changed, not even to conform to the image of Christ. The spirit man may understand the need to change, but the soul - which has been programmed from birth with the social, cultural, and environmental thought patterns and habits of behavior of the natural world - will fight to maintain the status quo. Instinctive survival mechanisms are triggered by any attempt to change body or soul habits just the same as if a person actually was under a physical attack. The result is inner conflict, or the feeling of fighting oneself. It may seem like trying to paddle a boat upstream against the current. Also, I will be explaining areas of ministry that seem to deal with other men and women of God, but I am not talking about them personally. I am simply talking about the way of the soul. I do not want, nor do I intend, to criticize any ministry or any man or woman of God. Please do not interpret any comments that seem to fit those you know or have heard of as personal slander. This book deals with the soulish realm, which will automatically identify all of us.
