THE POINT OF DEATH (Book 1) Who killed Shells teacher? Twenty-four year old Shell Hodge is in the final stretch of her quest for a masters degree in art history when tragedy strikes at her art co-op near the University of Texas at Austin. She finds the body of beautiful Dr. Leone, her art teacher from UT, and she is forced to endure an aggressive interview by the police. Believing that the approach of the detectives is unlikely to result in the capture of the real murderer, Shell embarks on her own search for answers. A circle of clues leads back to her best friends ex, Jeremy. Meanwhile, that same best friend, Margie, has some ideas of her own about Jeremy, one of them being that she wants to keep her little dog and herself as far away from him as possible. Enlisting the help of a handsome psychologist seems like a good idea at first, but learning that he also has a secret and that it, too, leads back to the murder victim, puts Margie on an emotional rollercoaster while Shell winds up at the point of death when she finds herself facing a killer.

THE MURDER MOTIF (Book 2) Could you fall in love with a murderer? When Shell Hodge moves back to Austin, she is ready to start a new life as a single woman with her focus squarely on her art career. After renting a house from her best friends older brother, Dean, Shell believes life will be as uncomplicated as moving in and getting back to her painting. But Dean is distractingly handsome, and he has a charming dog that wins her heart. More importantly, a murder charge is looming over him, and the police seem to be investigating in all the wrong places. Who killed Deans estranged wife, and why is someone watching Shell?

ROMANCING

THE BRUSH (Book 3) Have you ever known something without knowing why? Thirty-year-old Shell Hodge seems to have it all: a great life with Dean, the man of her dreams, and an art career that is taking off. But when one of the partners in her gallery is murdered, Shells life goes into a tailspin. She is thrown into a fearful state as memories of her parents deaths surface, and she finds herself worrying about her relationship with Dean while she puzzles over the murder. To make matters worse, Shells ex-boyfriend intrudes into a family visit at just the wrong moment, causing a rift between herself and Dean just when she needs him most. She is on her own again, and a killer is on the loose. Will she work out her troubles with Dean, or is it already too late? Shell has gone missing

THE GIRL WITH THE DRAGONFLY TATTOO (Book 4) Could you forgive the father who abandoned you to an indifferent mother when you were only two? When thirty-nine year old Octavia Bishop hears from an Austin lawyer that she needs to come to Texas to bury Edwin Bishop, the father she can barely remember, she finds herself in emotional turmoil. Its especially confusing to discover he had a secret life and a different name. After learning his death is being looked into as a homicide, Octavia has little hope of finding answers until she meets two important people: Shell Hodge, the person who heard her fathers last words, and Gus Kerr, her fathers closest friend a man who is too attractive, and possibly too dangerous, to ignore.
