

The Scythian

According to the Interior Ministry, every year 14-15 thousand rapes are committed in Russia. In only 3% of cases, the victim filed a complaint to the police, which means that 97% of sexual abuse cases are left out of official statistics, especially if the raped one was a teenager. Almost every woman who has reached forty years, at least once in her life, was compelled by physical force to commit a sexual act.
