

The Ninth

It is told that the Roman invasion of Britain was successful because of the vastly superior training and discipline of the Roman army. It is told that the Iron Age technology and centralized power structures of first century Rome easily defeated the dirty, illiterate and barbaric highland tribes. But there is another story, one never written down, only told person to person, generation to generation. It is told in a prophecy that The Ninth daughter of the Nine daughters would possess unusual powers. It is told that prosperity would flow from the fingers of The Ninth, that a shining horde would be under her command, that a flaming wand would rise and The Ninth would disappear. Taytha is The Ninth, revered and controlled by her clan, she lives in fear that others will discover that she is just an ordinary girl with no magical powers to save her people.
